Harrison's Plurality in Michigan Twenty-three Thousand.

Treasurer Hyatt Details the Operations of the Treasury.

Revenues and Expenditures Compared with Last Year.

Miranda's Vote.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—As the result of a conference between General Mahone and Senator Quay, recently had in this city, it is announced that proceedings will be begun in Virginia state courts and the U. S. district court of Virginia, attacking the right of the democratic electors of that state to cast their votes for president in the electoral college. Certificates of electors will not be issued until after the meeting of the electoral college in Richmond next Monday, and the contemplated proceedings will be then immediately instituted.

Michigan's Official Count.

DETROIT, November 22.—The official canvass of the vote of Michigan gives Harrison a plurality of 22,956. The total number of votes cast was 175,269, an increase of 72,860 over four years ago, divided as follows: Harrison 236,379, Cleveland 213,404, Fisk 20,042, Streeter 4542.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—The treasurer of the United States, Hon. James W. Hyatt, has submitted to Secretary Fairchild the annual report of the operations of the treasury. The net revenues of the government for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1888, were $379,266,474, and net expenditures $267,924,864; surplus receipts available for reduction of the public debt, being $111,341,278, an increase of $7,870,170 over the year before. [illegible] were $7,866,767 greater, and expenditures $7,315 less. The treasury balance increased during the year from $69,224,379 to $129,894,242, and total cash, including certificates of deposits and cash, from $622,304,284 to $664,729,535. A net change was produced by an increase of $37,526,469 in assets and a decrease of $33,093,719 in liabilities. The silver balance fell off more than $37,000,000. The principal increase of assets was in United States notes and deposits in national banks, and the principal decrease in liabilities in the public debt and the fund for the redemption of national bank notes. There was a net decrease of $74,788,930 during the fiscal year in the principal of the interest-bearing debt. The total purchases of bonds for the sinking fund and due of the surplus revenue were $51,464,900, net premium paid exclusive of accrued interest being $8,270,842.

Gold and silver coin and bullion in the country of all kinds and notes and certificates outstanding June 30th, 1887, amounted to $1,925,255,882, and June 30th, 1888, to $2,093,562,072. The stock of gold and silver increased from $1,007,573,991 to $1,092,391,690, — gold in gold. The increase in the volume of paper circulation was $83,424,400, resulting from an increase of $110,340,955 in the amount of certificates, and a falling off of $26,995,554 in the total of notes and fractional currency.

Some attention has been given to the question of the probable loss or destruction of paper currency, but without any very definite result. A table is given showing the course of the redemption of the first issue of legal tender notes until the notes are called in by the government, or some other cause brings them to the treasury. The loss from destruction must be more or less in the nature of conjecture. The most careful estimate from data at hand places it at one per cent or less according to denomination.

Certificates of deposit outstanding to $94,110,000 were issued for U. S. notes, $18,465,000 were redeemed, leaving $14,655,000 outstanding. The treasurer attributes the decrease of the use of these certificates since '86 to the change in the manner of redeeming them, holders now receiving the same notes that were deposited instead of new notes, as formerly.

The volume of gold certificates outstanding increased $2,536,532, reaching $142,023,150, the highest point yet noted at the end of any fiscal year. Taking into account the decrease in the treasury the total increase in circulation was $29,[illegible]

The coinage of silver dollars during the year amounted to $32,481,603, making a total coinage of $299,424,790.

The increase of net distribution was only $39,156, owing to the scarcity of one and two dollar notes and the demand for the movement of crops. Nearly nine millions were drawn into circulation between May and November 1887, but when notes were again to be had the dollars came back to the treasury as fast as they had gone out.

The treasurer is of the opinion that the people have all of these coins they want or are willing to take, and recommends if purchases of silver are to continue the bullion be put into the form of heavy bars or ingots, arguing that the present supply of dollars will last [illegible] and demand there is likely to be for them, and that any increase of certificate circulation could be issued with perfect safety on uncoined metal.

The new silver vault in the treasury building, having a capacity of one hundred million dollars, and said to be the largest treasury vault in the world, is closed at the rate of $5 million a day. It will hold the total coinage of three years, but at the end of that period still further storage room will probably have to be provided, unless the coinage is suspended.

The amount of fractional coin in the treasury has not changed much since the first accumulation after the resumption of specie payments. The treasurer states that the gold in the treasury is in good condition, with the exception of a little [illegible]. The silver half dollars are much worn, some being quite smooth, and it has been impossible to reckon them, because the loss would have been too great in proportion. The new coinage was mostly dimes, which it was necessary to produce.

Work of Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 22.—Questions of the elections still agitate the minds of delegates of the Knights of Labor general assembly. Every one now acknowledges the certainty of Powderly's election and his choice for other officers will be the choice of the convention. Hayes, the present general secretary, is said to be Powderly's choice for general secretary treasurer. Mrs. Barry will undoubtedly be re-elected to her position in charge of woman's work, and if he wishes it, Richard Griffiths, of Chicago, may continue to serve as general worthy foreman. Powderly's nominations for members of the general executive board cannot be so readily predicted. A Canadian member is desired. From the south there is also a request for representation on the board. McGuire and Aylsworth, of the present board, O'Reilly, of Cincinnati, have been considered liable to be selected.

Four hours were spent in a heated debate over the Skeffington case. It was finally decided Skeffington was guilty of insubordination, and that he be publicly reprimanded by the general master workman.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 22.—It was decided to send a representative of the order to the Paris exposition, and then an hour and a half of the convention's time was devoted to consideration of secret work of the order.

The finance committee, Hugh Cavanaugh chairman, reported it found the method of disbursing funds very loose; that bills had not been countersigned before being paid; that some officers should be given the veto power in regard to the expenditure of money. Under such a plan more money would now be in the treasury; and further recommends that more business-like methods be established. They made no suggestion of any crookedness, giving out that all accounts were perfectly correct. The report states that the reductions already decided upon by the consolidation and reduction of officers would foot up $15,000. The salaries will remain the same as heretofore. Power is given the general secretary treasurer to throw out excessive items from the expenditures. By vote of 89 to 57 it was decided to continue the salary of $3000 to the general master workman; and the secretary treasurer will be paid $2000. Members of the executive board will receive $4 a day and expenses. The report of the committee was adopted, and these matters as to salary came up immediately afterwards.

The Cattle Market Story.

ST. LOUIS, November 22.—The senate cattle trade investigating committee met at 2 this morning. F. L. Leonard of Saline county, one of the largest importers of black cattle in Missouri, said the cattle markets were paralyzed by the control the dressed beef men had secured. There was no competition in the market between buyers.

Senator Plumb asked the witness if he thought the price to the consumer was lower than formerly when there were no packing h[illegible]. Witness said the price was [illegible] for our live beef does not justify the price which consumers pay.

ST. LOUIS, November 22.—Only one witness was examined at the night session. A. C. Cassidy, an ex-St. Louis commission man. He explained the difference between Chicago and St. Louis as cattle markets on purely business principles, and claimed if St. Louis did the right thing the cattle question would come out all right.

Secretary Halford at Work.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 22.—Private Secretary Halford formally entered upon his new duties to day, and occupied a desk in the library immediately to the right of a large table where the president-elect works. Both were busily engaged throughout the day with the accumulated correspondence.

Robbed Out of $10,000.

DENVER, November 22.—A distressing scene was witnessed at the union depot this morning, soon after the arrival of the Burlington from the east, in which a weeping woman, a despondent-looking husband and three small children were principals. On inquiry as to the cause the woman said: "My husband, Nathaniel, and myself sold our property at Lake View, Oregon, on October 24th, for $10,000 in gold, and started east with the money in a satchel, intending to go east on a visit and then return to New Mexico and go into business. On reaching Illinois, where my grandfather lives, we made the acquaintance of a man named Richard Slough, who said he was going to New York and would accompany us. We arrived in New York, the money satchel all right, and there Stough, whom we had told about the money, advised us to take it to a bank and have it changed into currency, as it could be carried easier. We took the money, and in company this man went to some bank, where we had the money changed into currency. We put it in the satchel, which we locked, and by the advice of the banker and this friend we shipped it by the Wells Fargo Express company to Denver. On arriving here this morning my husband went to the express office, got the satchel, opened it and found it contained nothing but some brown paper and a few pieces of coal."

At the express office, Agent Bradley acknowledged that Fine had taken a satchel out of the office during the morning and an hour afterwards returned and claimed he had been robbed of $10,000. The opinion of the police is that if the couple have lost the money as claimed they were bunkoed out of it in New York.

Fraudulent Failure.

OMAHA, November 22.—A special to the Bee from Valparaiso, Neb., says the bank at that place closed this afternoon. The proprietors, A. Scoville and G. O. Crafts, fled, leaving many debts unsatisfied. As near as can be ascertained this evening the liabilities of the bank will reach $300,000. It develops that Scoville has altered many of the notes payable to the bank by raising the amount on them. Both he and Crafts borrowed extensively from their friends before leaving.

ROSWELL CITY.

The New Town at the Junction of the Rock Island

A Reporter Paid the New Town a Visit Yesterday.

A GAZETTE reporter started out to find a few facts yesterday. The first business man he met inquired if he had "purchased a lot in Roswell." After fully satisfying the business man that buying lots was not a habit in which the average newspaper man was liable to indulge to any great extent, the reporter passed on to the next acquaintance. This one was a lady and an old friend, and hardly had he passed the usual courtesies of the day when she exclaimed, "I have just come down from Roswell where I purchased two lots!" Bidding his friend good day the reporter stepped into the Colorado Land Book store and while glancing over the newspapers his eye fell on the morning paper and there in huge type with a picture of an engine was "Roswell City." Leaving the book store and stepping into the Midland cigar store the reporter found a small party of men engaged in earnest conversation. Listening for a few minutes, he found that it was all about "Roswell City." Then he started out on his usual news route. At the court house they were talking "Roswell" at the hotels it was "Roswell," at the railroad offices it was "Roswell." "Every one seems to be talking 'Roswell,' perhaps it will be a good scheme to find out what there is to make them talk," reasoned the reporter. So up to the real estate office of F. G. Rowe, on Tejon street, he went and made his inquiries. Being asked that that was the headquarters for the transaction of business connected with Roswell City, he asked if there would be a chance to go up there during the day. "Certainly," replied Mr. Frank White; get into my buggy and I will drive you up. In fact we are pleased to take any one up there that really wants to look the town over with the expectation of purchasing."

Getting into the buggy the reporter was soon driven up over the beautiful Cascade avenue to a point about half a mile above the college, when, turning down the hill and along the Monument creek he found himself at the new Rock Island round house. A very busy and interesting scene presented itself. On every hand was a net-work of tracks and hundreds of railroad cars standing upon them or being switched into their places. Huge piles of coal were stacked up along the tracks and a half dozen engines were smoking and puffing great clouds of steam as they loaded it on to the tenders. At least five hundred workmen were busy with hammers and saws either at work on the stone for the new sixteen-stall round house, the handsomest in the west, or upon the dozens of new residences, or store houses that are being erected. In the great tents where these men are boarded the cooks were busy preparing the evening meal. The finishing work for the large coal schute had just been put up and painters were at work on the neat little depot of the Denver and Rio Grande. In fact it was a scene of animation and one that cannot be duplicated in the west to-day. The only quiet spot in the vicinity was the stretch of forty acres of land south of the round house which the Rock Island company has had leveled and graded and on which it will build its fine repair shops.

After the reporter had viewed these things for some time he was driven across the Rio Grande track, just north of the round house, and up onto as pretty a little tract of land as human eye ever fell upon. Extending from the reserve back to the foot hills with a gentle slope lay the site of Roswell City. A city to day of pegs and foundations, but, the reporter was led to believe, one that in a short time will number many inhabitants and scores of houses. Running down through the tract of land is the city ditch and across it in numerous places have been erected substantial bridges. Up and down through the place white posts and stakes with boards bearing the names of the streets, marked the different blocks. The names of the streets were examined curiously. All of those running east and west are named after trees, "Elm," "Chesinut," etc., being prominent, while those running north and south are named in honor of prominent Rock Island officials. The main business street is called Rock Island avenue, and the next one Cable avenue, the one after that Low avenue and the next Parker avenue. In fact the town itself is named in honor of Hon. Roswell P. Flower, of New York, a director of the road.

"Talk up the city and tell people of the town's prospects," remarked the reporter to Mr. White. "Suppose I should conclude to take a lot, what terms could you give me and what do you ask for them?"

"If you want a business lot it will cost you $150 with one third down and the remainder in one year. But if you want a residence lot I can sell you one of the best in the place for $100 on the same terms. You had better make your choice now, though, for the price will be advanced on some of them to-morrow." The company is very desirous that the place should be built up immediately, and they will make you this offer: For $450 they will give you a lot and build you a three room cottage. To show you that this is proving very popular, I will [illegible]

[illegible] the company has contracted for and which will be completed as soon as the number arrives. That 150 story eight room house there on your left which Sperry & Tuckerman are just completing, was built in one week." That portion of land in the south part of town which is not staked off in four acres which the company is reserving for manufacturing purposes. [illegible] across the creek in the foreground [illegible] with water, as it will be in a short time, there will be a big rush in the price of these lots, and some one is going to make some money, and it will be the persons who buy now and get in on the ground floor.

"The sun has gone down and it is getting late," Mr. White, "if you will drive me back to Colorado Springs, I will think about investing in the second Colorado City," remarked the reporter, and in a few minutes he alighted in front of the office, much pleased with his ride and what he had seen.

The Parnell Inquiry.

LONDON, November 22.—Examination of witnesses from County Kerry was continued at the session of the Parnell commission to day. Leonard, agent for the Earl of Kenmore, said the league was as active as ever. He disagreed with the statement of Balfour that the league was a thing of the past. Formerly a writ could be executed by the sheriff with the aid of four police, but now four hundred soldiers were required. Since 1880 the Earl of Kenmore had expended 152,000 pounds in improvement of the estate. His bill for labor alone amounted to 4000 weekly. Only such rents were taken from poor tenants as they could afford to give. Witness did not seek to collect rent from people in trouble with landlords and the law was never enforced against tenants of that class. Adjourned.

Harrington intends to question the right of the commission to impose the fine of 500 pounds, which they assessed him yesterday.

Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, November 22.—Money on call easy, 2 to 3, last loan 2½, closing 2 to 2½; prime paper 4 to 6. The stock market was again weak and declining throughout the day, though losses except in one instance do not compare with those of yesterday. Omaha preferred lost 3½ and the common 1½. Governments dull and weak.

Butchers and Butchers.

ST. LOUIS, November 22.—The long deferred joint convention of the Range Association and butchers was held to-night in the exposition building. Only a hundred people were present when Thomas Armour called the meeting to order. The report of the joint committee of the International association was read by H. M. Taylor of Denver. The report cites the dangers of the combination and concentration of the markets of the country in the preamble, while in the resolutions it favors combined effort on the part of butchers and cattlemen to secure such legislation as will restore a condition of trade that instead of only having two markets for cattle in the country there will be hundreds, where brisk competition will inure to the benefit of the small dealers and consumers.

Col. Chas James, president of the Butchers' National association, addressed the convention at length, reciting the results of his investigations in various cities as to the workings of the dressed beef combiners. An address by C. C. Slaughter of Texas followed, after which Col. J. O. Broadhead of St. Louis read a paper on the constitutionality of the state inspection laws. The result of the conference held places butchers and rangers in favor of the passage of laws providing for the inspection of cattle on the hoof only at regular stock yards and inspection of meat export at the request of the exporter.

A Lawyer in Trouble.

AUBURN, N. Y., November 22.—In the United States court Judge Brundage this morning moved for the immediate trial of Lawyer Haines, of Seattle, W. T., charged with conspiracy in an opium smuggling case. United States Attorney Lockwood opposed the motion on the ground that he was not ready to proceed to trial. The court decided the case should be given preference when the district attorney was ready.

Panic in a School.

NEW YORK, November 22.—Shortly after 1 o'clock fire broke out in a school building at Long Island City. Nine hundred children in a panic, piled upon and fought each other in a frantic effort to get out. They were piled on the floor at the foot of the stairway in heaps. Hundreds of them were badly bruised, but none fatally hurt. The fire was insignificant.

Morton's Movements.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—Vice President elect Morton was in the city to day inspecting a large apartment house which he is building on the site of his former residence here. He says the time of his visit to General Harrison is not settled. It will be arranged to suit the convenience of both parties.

Fighting in Samoa.

LONDON, November 22.—Advices from Samoa say Mataafa's followers attacked a stronghold held by adherents of Tamasese at Atua on the 7th instant and captured the outposts after two days fighting. Many were killed.

A Banker Speculated.

CHICAGO, November 22.—A special to the News from Des Moines, Iowa, says: The principal bank of Osceola closed this afternoon. Over $90,000 is said to have been deposited and there is but $3,000 in the vaults. It is rumored the president speculated in wheat.

BUCKER'S INTERVIEW.

President Cleveland Recalls the Day in Question,

But Does Not Remember Having Seen Rucker.

He Denies Positively that he had Such an Interview

Or Insinuated that there Was Treachery in New York.

Cleveland on the Interview.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—The Post to-morrow will say: It can be stated authoritatively that the president has denied most positively ever having used the language attributed to him by Judge Rucker in the now celebrated interview. As a matter of fact the president does not remember ever having met Judge Rucker. [illegible] Senator Blackburn called at the White house the day in question. This much the president has called to mind. He recollects also that just before leaving the library the senator stepped over to him and spoke a few words in regard to a senate report on the civil service investigation, but at no time was anything said about politics in New York, and under no circumstances has the president ever charged or intimated that there was treachery toward him in New York.

Cleveland Pleased.

CHICAGO, November 22.—A Springfield, Ill., special to the News says: John M. Palmer to-night formally withdrew from the Grand Army of the Republic. The reason for this step given by General Palmer is that the order was used against him during the recent election.

The Reichstag Opened.

BERLIN, November 22.—The German reichstag assembled to day. Emperor William opened the session. In his speech he said the tours he had recently made convinced him that the desire for peace of Germany was widely spread in the people. He emphasized the pacific character of Germany's foreign relations and policy. He said his visit abroad, which had been undertaken with a view to effecting an understanding in the interest of peace, caused universal confidence in the maintenance of peace. The emperor made no reference to any military bills or recent attacks, but briefly touched upon east African affairs.

Trouble at Diaz's Cabinet.

CITY OF MEXICO, November 22.—The cabinet ministers to-day handed in their resignations, to take effect December 1, that President Diaz may have full liberty to appoint a new cabinet for the new term. Many rumors are afloat that the only changes will be in war and justice. Lancaster Jones will probably be minister of justice.

Jesus Jimenez, governor of Michoacan, forbids the publication of news not revised by him, if [illegible] correspondents.

United Ireland's Contempt.

DUBLIN, November 22.—The United Ireland makes a furious attack on the Parnell commission because of the heavy fine imposed upon Edward Harrington. It says: Whether it is guilty of contempt or not, it will not abstain from commenting on the action of the judges. It reiterates the charges made by the Kerry Sentinel against the commission and asserts that the government which exists by sence is at stake has paid the court.

Actors Sick.

George S. Knight is very ill at Orange, N. J., suffering from paresis, apparently from the same causes which resulted in the death of John McCullough and Bartley Campbell, and which have prostrated Tony Hart. He arrived from Los Angeles ten days ago. He may die any day or hour.

Fears for the French Republic.

NEW YORK, November 22.—A London special to the Times says: During the past two days there have been many expressions of opinion that the French republic is in a desperate strait and that its downfall is imminent. Several English liberals of repute have expressed most pessimistic views on the subject, out of which a sort of scare has precipitated here.

Death of a Journalist.

DENVER, November 22.—A Helena, Mont., special to the Republican says: John S. Dickerson, a prominent journalist, at various times connected with papers at Indianapolis, Denver, Butte, Helena and at one time agent of the associated press at St. Paul, died this morning of pneumonia. He was 40 years of age and leaves a wife and two children.

Negotiations.

NEW YORK, November 22.—Consul General Basset, who represents the Haytian government at New York, has received information that peace between the Haytian government and the insurgents is being arranged by an ambassador. The first steps in the negotiation were taken at the request of high dignitaries of the Roman Catholic church.

Battle With the Police.

BALTIMORE, Md., November 22.—News has reached the city of an engagement between a number of boats occupied by unlawful dredgers, and the state police sloop, in which a negro named Catis was shot and fatally wounded. The fight was exceedingly lively for several hours. The police were driven off.

The Rock Island route has issued a large and handsome poster in several colors announcing its excursion to Missouri river points on the 30th. The tickets will be $10 for the round trip and will be good for fifteen days.

Real estate matters have been quite lively at L. E. Dwinnell's office lately, the total sales having aggregated some thing like $11,000. Among the sales have been vacant lots to the amount of $2,800 and one block in this city at $4000.

The handsome flag which the Cleveland and Thurman club purchased last fall has mysteriously disappeared. It is a piece of property that cannot very well be stolen, however, as it cannot be displayed or sold without being recognized.

On Monday night an engine on the Denver, Texas and Ft. Worth road ran into some flat cars near the depot. They were considerably stove up and the cab was knocked off the engine. They were immediately placed in the shops at Colorado City for repairs.

The only case that reached a jury for trial in the district court yesterday was that of Bourdette Williams, charged with larceny. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

J. W. D. Stovell, of 16 North Tejon street, makes a change in his ad. this morning. This store, since it started some six weeks ago, has been doing a fine business in the sale of Indian and Mexican blankets and western curiosities. Connected with the store just at present is one of the finest taxidermists in the west and they will soon place on exhibition a number of handsomely mounted specimens of his art.

Rev. P. L. Stanton will deliver his lecture on "Love and Courtship" this evening at the city hall. Will also give a reading "The Maniac." Doors open at 7:30. Admission 25 and 15 cents. Of this lecture the Denver Democrat says: "The lecture given by Rev. P. L. Stanton at the Union hall, Tuesday evening, was the crowning event of the season. The speaker was in an unusually unhappy mood as the subject of the lecture, "Love and Courtship," had harrowed up the feelings of the bachelor preacher, and we opine that he drew not from imagination, but from that stern reality of personal experience. The front seats were not filled by those whose craniums were devoid of hair, but with young and hopeful couples, whose hearts beat with the rapidity of lightning as the different indications of love were defined. He told of the candy age, the chewing gum age, and the dotage of love, and his hearers made rapid strides [illegible] check to check. After getting the audience in just the humor desired, the speaker, quite loose "straight out from the shoulder hits," denouncing many of the infamous outrages perpetrated by both young men and women.

Items of Interest from the Western Saratoga.

Mr. A. P. Silverthorn, of Chicago, is stopping at the Cliff house.

A literary society will be organized on next Tuesday at the council room over the Journal office.

News from the Pike's Peak surveying corps reports rapid and satisfactory progress of the work. It is thought the preliminary survey will be completed with [illegible] days.

Considerable effective work has recently been done on the road to Colorado Springs within the town limits of Manitou. The road is now in better condition than ever before, but rain is badly needed to lay the dust in the recently plowed places.

A pleasant party of tourists composed of Hon. A. Z. Gray and daughter, Miss [illegible] of Middletown, Springs [illegible] Mr. A. B. Knapp and wife and Waldo L. Knapp of New York, Mr. C. D. Willits and wife, of Brooklyn, and Mr. J. M. Elliott, of Philadelphia, left the Cliff house yesterday for Cheyenne canon. They took lunches with them and picnicked in that romantic place, and returned delighted with the experience.

COLORADO COLLEGE.

The stone coping on the south wing has been replaced.

It is reported that a public meeting in the interest of the new club house is to be held at no very distant day.

Miss Lulu Patterson, who has been absent on account of sickness is reported safely convalescent, and will soon be able to resume her studies.

The president of the Phœnix turned over four dollars to the College association, the net proceeds of the musicale. The money will be expended in improving the grounds immediately in front of the college building.

Next Monday the course in surveying and civil engineering will commence under the supervision of H. E. Reid, city engineer. This is an exceptionally fine opportunity for those who desire a practical knowledge of this science.

Foot ball has entirely superseded the "national game" upon the campus. By the way, isn't it about time for the annual challenge for a game on Thanksgiving to turn up? The High school should not go back on its record as "boss" challengers.

The faculty decided at their last meeting to make an effort to raise six or seven hundred dollars among friends outside the state for the purpose of building a cottage which will accommodate from thirty to forty young ladies. This is an excellent scheme that should succeed.

All people who attend the Phœnix literary society this evening will not be disappointed as a glance at the programme will show. The evening's entertainment will consist of:

Chorus ..... A. B. P. V. [illegible]
Piano solo ..... H. J. Hawkins
Debate on the question, Resolved, That it is expedient to form colonies of convicts. Mr. Swift has the affirmative and A. E. Gale will defend the negative.
Comic selection ..... Dr. S. T. Busey
[illegible] ..... H. McAllister
Reading ..... Hel. Kerr

The college library and reading room, which is open every Tuesday night, has the following magazines and periodicals on its table: The North American Review, Century, [illegible] American and supplement, Harper's Weekly, comic Puck, with many others of minor note, besides all the local publications. The library contains over six thousand volumes covering every conceivable subject. The collection of standard French authors is very fine, and anyone looking for literary food in that language may find a choice selection in this collection.

Inspection of Meats.

St. Louis, Nov. 22.—While the joint convention of railroad and butchers was in session in the exposition building a meeting of commissioners from the live stock exchanges of Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City was held in the southern annex. They were reinforced by accredited from the convention, and adopted a set of resolutions setting forth the following: The preamble recites that

Whereas, Inspection and approval of meat products is necessary to command the confidence of the consumer, and such inspection and approval should be made under authority free from local prejudices, the interests of producers and consumer alike demand the best facilities for marketing live stock and products, therefore, it is

Resolved, That we favor a national inspection law providing that it shall be unlawful to transport from one state into another state or foreign country any meat, pork, mutton or veal to be sold for human food which had not been inspected alive at a slaughtering place by inspectors of the United States and found healthy.

Resolutions favor the establishment of practical stockyards as national inspection stations, and oppose local or state inspection laws which shall hinder the free transportation and marketing of meat products; that such laws would have a tendency to destroy competition and would not command the confidence of foreign countries that national inspection would. A copy of the resolutions will be mailed each senator and congressman in the United States.

Fire a False Alarm.

Chicago, November 22.—A false cry of fire in the Boston store this afternoon caused a panic. A thousand persons, mostly women, shoppers and shop girls, made a frantic rush for the stairway and exit. Many were bruised and scratched, but no one fatally.

TYPOGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

John Bright was reported improving last night.

The steamer Servia, which rumor had it Saturday had been sunk by the Aurania, arrived at New York yesterday.

A meeting of carpet manufacturers was held in New York yesterday. It is understood a trust was formed and the price will be advanced soon.

The recently formed national Sabbath union met in Chicago yesterday. It was decided to hold a national convention in the interest of Sabbath observance at Washington, December 11 to 13.

Officers, after a long chase in the Choctaw nation, succeeded in overhauling and killing a desperado supposed to be John Barber, one of the celebrated Kepquegen gang. The man had killed an Indian and was wanted for attempted train robbery.

Not a Fair Shake.

Special to the Journal.

"Why, what has Smith ever done to you?" asked Blenkensop, surprised.

"Bet me $10 I couldn't hit a barn door with a revolver at five paces, said Blenkins, angrily. "I wanted me into taking him up. Got me to put up the money. Measured off the five paces in presence of a lot of witnesses. Give me a revolver loaded—and then set the barn door up edgewise."

THE GREAT TEXAS REMEDY.

Following up the discoveries of modern science, establishing the fact that the cause of a majority of the diseases which afflict men and animals arises from the inhalation of microbes or bacteria, Wm. Radam, of Austin, Texas, has invented the only method known to the world of exterminating them from the system. It is an infallible remedy in Chronic Affections of the Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Malaria, Dyspepsia, Skin Diseases, Fevers and Infectious diseases in all forms. It is a sovereign remedy for diseases peculiar to women and to children.

As an apperient it is most excellent, it has no equal among medicines now known.

Great Rock Island Railroad,

Where their shops are to be built and where under precisely the same conditions we shall see

A Second Colorado City.

Mechanics, Artisans, Investors, Tradesmen, Professional Men, Day Laborers

Here is the opportunity you have been waiting for ever since the announcement made last spring that the Rock Island railroad had decided to build to Colorado Springs.

The Beautiful Tract of Land in which Roswell City is Located is Almost at your Door. It is within twenty minutes drive of the finest portion of Colorado Springs, and is situated on the west side of the Monument river, the same side of the river as the lands of the Rock Island railroad, where the buildings of the railroad company are now in course of erection. The station of Roswell has been established at this point, the round house and station being within 400 feet of what is to be the principal business street of the city. The lands of the Rock Island railroad and those of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad extend for half a mile along the eastern border of this new city, and furnish excellent facilities for the establishment of manufactories and for shipment.

The location of this new city is on ground sloping gently to the east, rising gradually from the railroad track towards the mesa on the west, and furnishes most beautiful and finely protected building sites for the thriving city which is bound to spring up at once in that locality.

There is no doubt about it, that this is the best chance to make money on lots, that has ever been offered in this vicinity.

Prices are Very Low, Terms Easy, and Values will Doubtless Double or Treble in a Few Weeks.

Negotiations are about concluded with a large manufacturing plant, to locate in the new city, and many others are sure to follow on account of its superior facilities.

To meet the immediate demands for dwellings, the company will erect a score of houses and stores, which will be ready for occupancy within three weeks.

GO AND INVESTIGATE FOR YOURSELVES and we will guarantee that if you are looking for an investment or a home, you will not have to look any further.

President Cleveland says he does not even think of Judge Brewer. This is unkind.

It is said that the first vacancy which occurs on the supreme bench during General Harrison's administration will be filled by Senator Evarts. He would probably in that case be succeeded in the senate by Warner Miller.

There is a general movement among republican clubs all over the country to make their organization permanent. This is a good idea. Much of the credit of the victory this year is due to the thorough organization of the republican forces.

Chief Constructor of the Navy Wilson in his annual report to Secretary Whitney states that unless immediate appropriations are made for the repair of the Hartford, Farragut's old flag ship, she will be condemned. The Hartford could never be made very useful for active service but might be preserved with slight repairs as a receiving ship, as a monument to her past achievements.

General Palmer was a gallant soldier during the war and is a gentleman of unquestioned ability, and would no doubt have made a good governor for Illinois had he been elected. But as a democratic candidate for that office he could not expect to receive the Grand Army vote, which is naturally largely republican. His action in withdrawing from the Grand Army organization is silly.

England's representation at Washington is ... it ought to be made a position of importance and ... the very best and most practiced ability. But as it is only an office of the second class, diplomatists who have attained to the ranks of embassador think it beneath their dignity to come to Washington. The British government should make this a first class mission.

The republican cyclone, if it failed to bring Mississippi into the republican column, made serious inroads upon the democratic majorities. Cleveland's plurality in 1884 was 33,059, this year it is only 25,632. In the last state election, which was for judge of the supreme court, the democratic candidate's plurality was 30,630, this year the state ticket is elected by only 13,230. This is the smallest democratic plurality since the war.

The prosecution of the suit which has been brought by the attorney general of New York on behalf of the state against the North River Sugar Refining company to dissolve that corporation for exceeding the privileges of its charter by joining the sugar trust, will be watched with much interest. This is to be made a test case, and if judgment is gotten against the company, the attorney general will at once proceed against other companies. If dissolution is to be the penalty for joining the sugar trust, this monopoly will soon become very unpopular.

The story which comes from Denver of a man and his wife who took $10,000, the hard earned savings of a life time, to New York and were bunkoed out of it while there is very distressing. This poor couple who by years of hard work and careful economy had saved enough to keep them comfortably in their old age have now to begin again. It is an old story but one which cannot fail to excite pity. It is to be sincerely hoped that the efforts of the police to find the perpetrator of this villainous outrage will be successful and that he will be speedily brought to justice.

The New York Tribune says, "The Rev. Myron Reed, now of Denver, was at one time pastor of General Harrison's church. Mr. Reed is a mighty hunter and an expert fisherman and the general and he used to make many excursions together in former days. On returning from one of these trips Mr Reed said to a friend, 'The general is not much of a shot, but then I can bring down all the game and he makes a mighty good retriever.' The American people seem to agree with the latter part of the reverend gentleman's estimate, inasmuch as they have chosen Benjamin Harrison to bring back the national government to its former high place."

The trustees of the Columbia college, New York, have taken a step important in granting the memorial which was presented to them last spring requesting their sanction to a department for women at that college. And now Columbia is to have co-education on the same plan as at Harvard. It is interesting to note the entire change of opinion within the last few years concerning the education of women at Columbia. A memorial similar to the one which has just been granted was laid on the table by a unanimous vote in 1876. Again in 1879 a petition to the same effect was refused, and in 1882 a memorial signed by some of the most prominent citizens of New York was bitterly opposed by a majority of the board. Dr Nix said at that time "I will oppose it to the end, never, with my consent, shall co education be introduced at Columbia" and yet within a year he was chairman of a committee which recommended a course for women.

INDIAN ELOQUENCE.

Denver, Dec. 7.—"Don't talk to me about the intelligence of an Indian, don't try to fool the old man about the critter. He knows a Sioux Indian for a Sioux, that's all. He's mean and tricky as a snake in the grass and as glutton and vicious upon the occasion."

This speech was delivered the other morning by Jake Kinney, ex-freighter and "bull whacker," of this place, whose knowledge of the red men was acquired thus: In the seventies, when it cost 6 cents in gold to transport a pound of freight from Bismarck to Deadwood, the audience he addressed was made up of citizens who had just returned from the depot where Sitting Bull, Gall, John Grass and the other chiefs of the Standing Rock bands had stopped for breakfast on their return trip from the Washington council.

Jake had refused to go near the Indians. "What" he asked, "Do you think I would go down and help feed the vanity of that pack of assassins? No, sir. I've seen our share of them already. Thirty years on the Deadwood trail with a bull train would sicken most any one of the 'noble red man.' Many a friend along that wild road with whom I've eat, drunk or played 'sledge' on the up trip, I've buried, buy on my way back, killed, perhaps, after hoeing and feeding a band of the cowardly rascals. If you had seen the devilish work I have, if you had driven up to a station upon the route and found the keeper's wife, as young and beautiful a woman as ever trod a prairie, dead, naked, and bearing the marks of every indignity that the cowardly fiends could suggest; if you had brought out a settler from Deadwood, where he went for supplies a day or two before, to the ruins of his home and the mutilated bodies of the wife and children he had left and left in God's care; if you had seen these things as I have time and again, I fancy you'd keep away from that depot, for fear you might shoot a few of the heathens."

Having thus delivered himself, the old freighter prepared to experience a reaction of feeling. He laughed heartily, drawing the long knife scar upon his right cheek into a most hideous pucker. "Laughing at? Why I heard a fellow that just came up from the train telling what an intelligent fellow this John Grass is, statesman, orator, and all that, you know. Well, now, that's what amused me. I've heard a good deal about these Indians being good speakers, but I've not heard a good one yet. I've been at their powwows in the fall, and heard them make their big kicks at the agent, but, if I'm a judge of what speaking is, there hasn't been a speaker in a Sioux.

"Why, here a year or two ago I was down at Chamberlain on the 4th of July. A lot of blacks came over from the Brule agency. There was a big crowd in town, and, of course, every one went to shooting at the Indians. They caught right on, those Indians did. They formed a big circle and told the interpreter, who was along with them, to tell the crowd that White Ghost would talk to his brothers, or words to such purport. Well, the crowd began to yell 'White Ghost,' ... just as if it was a circus ... and White Ghost came out. You'd have thought he had something tremendously important to say to see him walk out into the ring and look at the crowd. The interpreter stood and stood near him, and then it began. Ghost raised the air a little and emptied out something like this:

"Gobble to bow wakee.

"Then White Ghost gobbled off ... of talk.

"'White Ghost says,' says the interpreter, 'that there are many very many people.'

"Then the old reprobate got excited; he swung his arms and rolled the logs at ... yet. He looked like a demoniac talking with a handkerchief in his throat.

"The crowd thought this must be something fine, of course, and the Indians, and to be decently polite, for their sacred Ugh all around the circle.

"Well, the interpreter got it off at last, and it ran like this:

"'White Ghost says that his white brothers are very rich; that the Indian has come from the reservation to see him, and that he will take flour, hemp soper, tobacco, blankets and other things that the people may bring.'

"Ghost gobbled once more, and the interpreter said: 'White Ghost says he has done.' Well, you ought to have heard that crowd laugh. The old rascal was as ... and hoped to shoot his bow, as if he was declaring war against the Crows, and the crowd thought they were getting real Indian eloquence, and so they were, for if a Sioux can't talk well on that subject he can't on any. I tell you, gentlemen, that all this rot about the wrongs of the Indian disgusts me. It makes me tired. I've seen the animal ... most all circumstances and you can take my word for it, he deserves his fate, bitter extinction from the face of the earth."

FALCON

A Boom that is a Boom!

Hotels, restaurants and private houses besieged and overrun by new comers and investors. 100 men have found steady employment and there is now work for 100 more.

An enormous exchange business between the two railroads, requiring a score of men and acres of side and connection tracks. Every stranger that visits Falcon expresses surprise to find so many substantial improvements, so much business and life, and they become inspired with a feeling of confidence at once and want to own property here while it can be had at the original low prices. Nothing has been misrepresented to them; everything that has been advertised and promised has been fulfilled to the letter.

ONLY THINK OF IT!

Where six weeks ago was but the remnants of an old deserted sheep camp now there is a $6,000 Hotel nearly completed, two general stores, one drug-store, meat market, blacksmith shop, weekly newspaper, half dozen restaurants, two large lumber yards, two railroad stations, besides numerous private dwellings.

Still we need a hardware store, a clothing store, shoe store, furniture store, brick yard, grain store, livery stable and a great many other enterprises that this place will sustain and that will thrive and prosper.

Now is the time to invest in Falcon. Harrison and Morton's election is assured, and that means four years of good times and prosperity to Colorado.
